

New Library Catalog: GIL is Changing!

Together with the institutions of the University System of Georgia, the Georgia Archives is launching a new library catalog on May 26th. On that day, <http://gil.georgiaarchives.org> will be redirected to our new catalog interface.

For an explanation of the new features of our new system, please attend our June Lunch & Learn, where archivist Caroline Crowell will introduce you to the new catalog interface, explaining new tips and tricks for browsing and searching the new system, as well as demonstrating many of the new features related to saving citations. Feel free to bring your questions!
