LUNCH AND LEARN

Morrow, GA, October 4, 2019 – On Friday, October 11, noon-1:00 p.m., the Georgia Archives' Lunch and Learn program will be presented by architectural historian Patrick Sullivan. The presentation will be Researching the History of a House in the City of Atlanta.

Patrick is a preservation planner with VHB in Atlanta. He has over 14 years' experience working as an architectural historian on projects located throughout the United States. He has worked for a variety of clients that include the National Park Service, the Centers for Disease Control, the Georgia Department of Transportation, and the City of Atlanta. He received his M.A. in Heritage Preservation from Georgia State University.

The Georgia Archives is located at 5800 Jonesboro Road, Morrow, Georgia.

Lunch and Learn Programs are free and open to the public and are sponsored by Friends of Georgia Archives and History (FOGAH). Door prizes are drawn at each Lunch and Learn program. No registration is required.

The Georgia Archives is a unit of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. The Georgia Archives identifies, collects, manages, preserves, provides access to, and publicizes records and information of Georgia and its people, and assists state and local government agencies with their records management. This work is done within the framework of the USG's mission to create a more highly educated Georgia.
