Georgia Stone: Personal Foundations – Stories behind Building a Nation by Ryan O. Roney, Curator, Tellus Science Museum

Geologic history and modern history intersect at the personal level. Archive research and onsite field trips reveal individuals and groups that tell a broader story than just the historic uses of architectural stone from Georgia.

Friday, September 13, 2019

Law and Order at the Archives by Maureen Hill, Archivist, National Archives at Atlanta.

The presentation will highlight the records at the National Archives at Atlanta relating to bootleggers, counterfeiters, privateers, and everything in-between!

Friday, October 11, 2019

Researching the History of a House in the City of Atlanta by Patrick Sullivan, Historian, VHB Consulting.

Learn the basics on how to research the history of your house in the City of Atlanta, including building permits, former residents, and neighborhood history.
